In Memoriam

GRETEL MAIER

Our light affliction, which is but for a moment, worketh for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory; while we look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen: for the things which are not seen are eternal.

II Corinthians 4:17, 18

SENIORS

Senior Class Officers: Standing—Jean Anderson, Treasurer; Anne Beck, Vice-President; Kathie Kelly, Secretary. Seated—George Diehl, President.

"These are the happiest years of your life." People have been telling me that for three or four years and I've always been rather inclined to doubt it. By this assumption my senior year should have been the happiest of the happy. Tradition surrounds the senior year with a special aura. I haven't seen any aura. Maybe only people who are looking back over twenty years of forgetting can see it. This year has been pretty much like the rest. A little faster, much busier. When I wade down through the ankle-deep sentiment of graduation, I'll be leaving a lot behind me. I've made some good friends. I may never see some of them again. There will be people I'll always regret not having known better. I've had a lot of experiences some very happy, some bitter, some humiliating. There were a lot of opportunities I missed. What I am now has probably been influenced by these things. But I'm not thinking of "golden memories" now. My preoccupation is with what's ahead. I'm very eager to start making my own life. To me, that diploma doesn't represent what I have done in the past twelve years. It represents what I will do in the next forty or fifty. Maybe after that I'll sit down and reminisce about "that wonderful year."

Susan Ackard — Susie

Here's a petite blond with domestic interests and a cheery hello for everybody.

Margaret Aland — Peggy

This Irish ham delights in taking advantage of gullible people and maintaining an innocent expression throughout.

Jean Anderson — Jean

This vivacious cheerleader is up on all the latest fads and fashions.

Frank Antonucci — Frankie

Frank has an unconventional angle — usually humorous — in any situation.

Phyllis Ash — Phyl

Phyl is a majorette with a winning smile and well-groomed appearance.

Thomas Baine — Tom

Tom's quiet good nature remains constant in a world full of temperamental people.

John Balbach John

John is the fellow who makes things click behind the scenes on the football field.

Anne Beck Anne

Anne possesses beauty both of face and of character.

Norbert Beck Norb

A tough opponent on the wrestling mat, Norb has gained the respect of many friends.

Richard Bell Dick

Dick's enthusiastic interest in hunting has given him an admirable woodsman's reputation.

Anthony Benaglio Tony

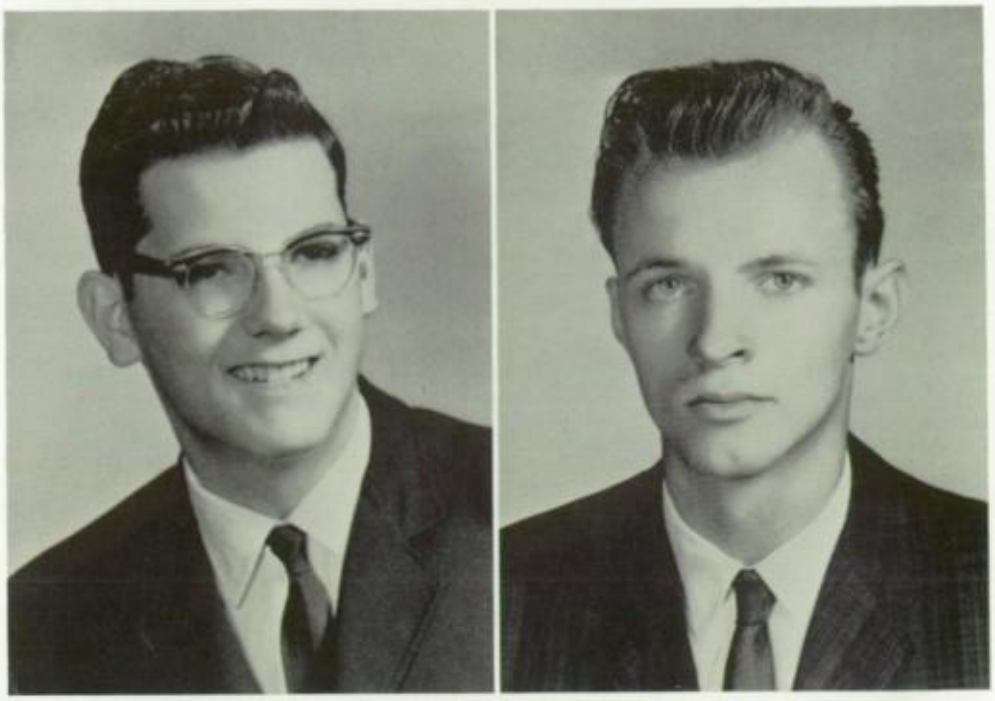
A real thigh-slapping sense of humor and affability characterize Tony.

James Bergman Jim

Jim is a proficient business student who wins archery trophies in his spare time.

Frederick Bernauer — Rick

Whenever there's fun going on, Rick always seems to be in on it.



Charles Betz — Chuck

Enthusiastic school spirit shines through Chuck's quiet nature.

Kathleen Betz — Bitz

When there's a job to be done, Bitz is always around to help out.

Bonnie Bishop — Bonnie

Our cock-eyed optimist loves e.e. cummings and Rege Cordic.

Bradley Blackstone — Brad

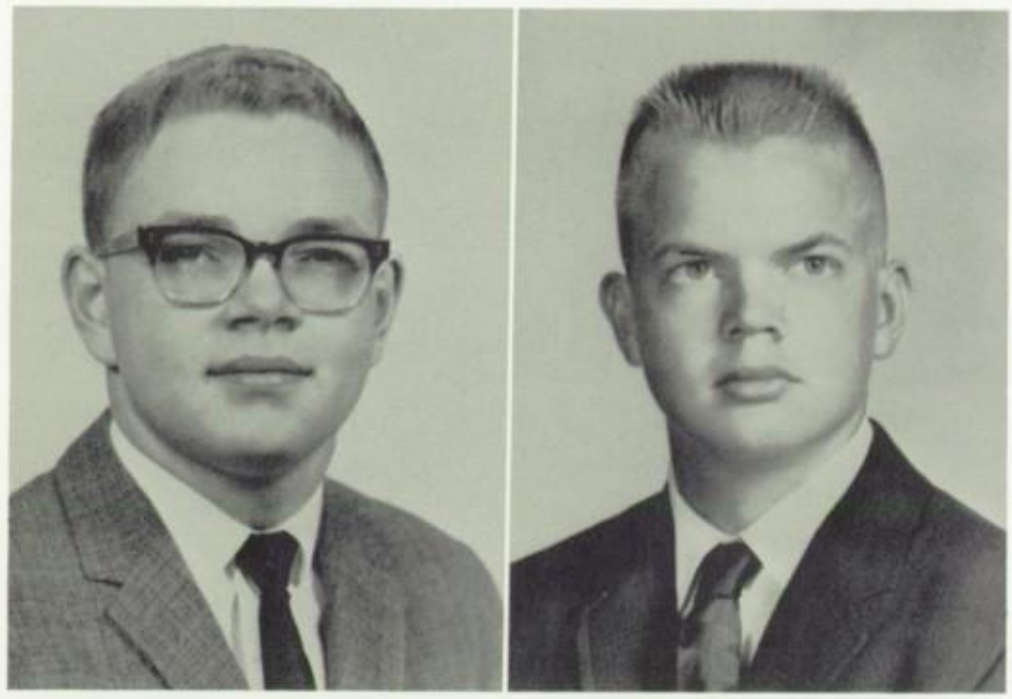
Did you notice the posters at the end of the hall? Nine chances out of ten they're a product of Brad's artistry.

Lucretia Brown — Terry

This future phys. ed. teacher clashes cymbals in band concerts as if her life depended on it.

James Butterfield — Jim

A new face at Hampton this year, Jim has contributed mightily to our winning Talbots.

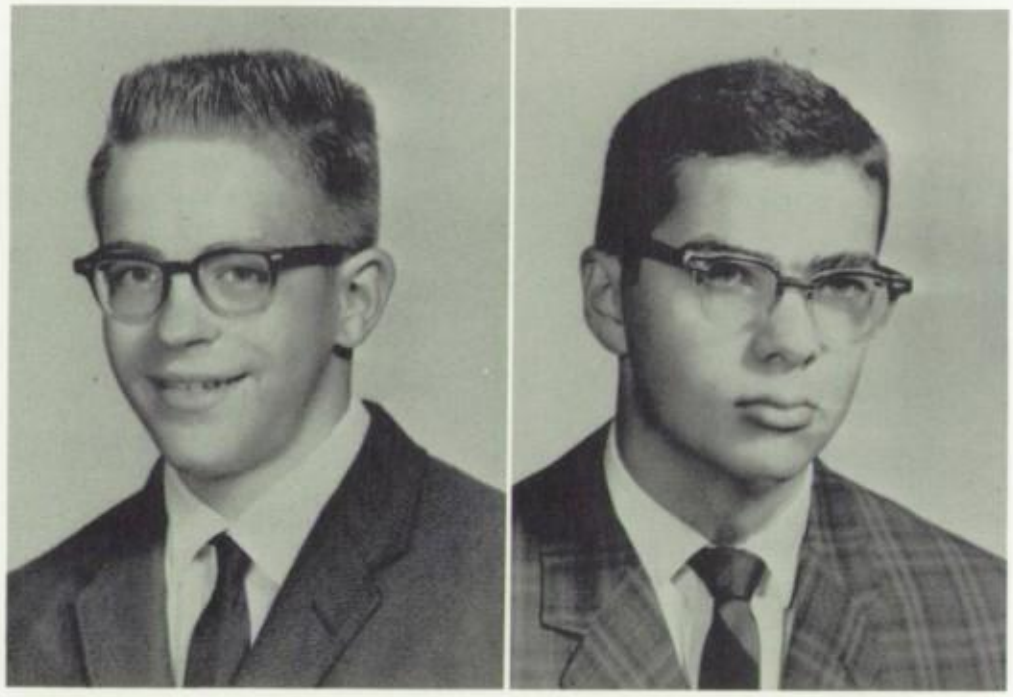


LaMont Buzzard — Buzz

Buzz loves a good time and, if there isn't something going on, he'll get something started.

Robert Cain — Bob

Quiet Bob spends all his spare time in the shop or on the wrestling mat, and loves it.



John Callen — John

John's a rugged individualist whose actions and interests are unpredictable.

James Carothers — Jim

A new addition to Hampton's class of '65, Jim has well established himself in a cordial relationship with both students and teachers.

Dennis Caruso — Denny

Denny has made his distinction as a truly creative artist.

Nancy Casselman Nancy

Nancy's welcome sense of responsibility is appreciated by the many clubs in which she participates.

Noreen Castelli Noreen

Mr. Sadler's discovery has a beautiful crystal-clear voice and a gracious personality.

Renèe Chalfant Renèe

Casual Renee's characteristics are quick gallic gestures and an easy drawling voice.

Thomas Churilla Tom

Tom is a happy-go-lucky guy with an appreciation for good humor.

Robert Clarke Giz

Giz is a hard worker and always willing to do his share.

Joseph Connelly Joe

Joe's a hunting enthusiast with a great sense for the comical.

Richard Crompton Dick

Dick's intent and serious gaze is often broken up by a broad grin.

Thomas Cubelic Tom

Tom's musical ability and keen sense of rhythm have added a "key note" to several school activities.

Norma Copelin Norma

A child-like countenance masks Norma's sense of impish fun.

Frederick Cramer Fred

Stalwart, sturdy Fred has often ambled out on the field when somebody else might have stayed on the bench.

Alice Cybach Alice

Her natural, out-going personality is reflected by her continual participation in school activities.

Diane Curran Diane

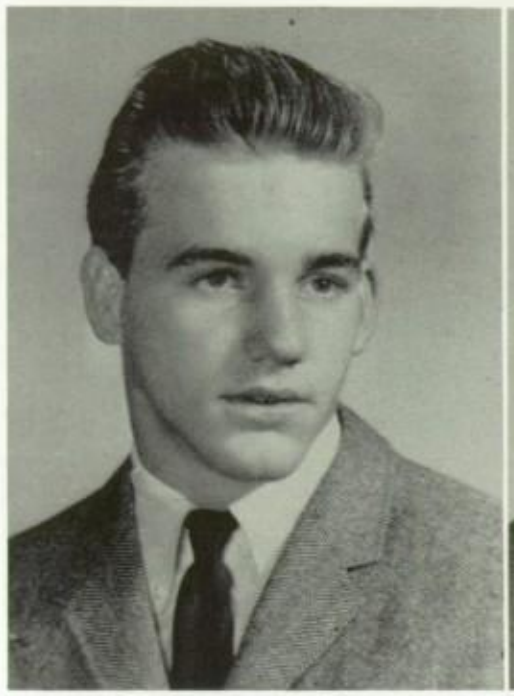
Good things come in small packages and this one cheers her heart out for the squad.

Elizabeth Daily Beth

This cheerful extrovert seems to discover a "tough" new guy every weekend.

Charles Dellinger Chuck

Chuck's a friendly senior who enjoys swimming and fishing.



Calvin Dauer Cal

Cal is one of Hampton's star athletes in football, wrestling, track — you name it!

George Diehl George

George is always right in the middle of a discussion peering over the rims of his glasses, or in the middle of the basketball court chalking up points.

Daniel Dryna Draino

His casual nonchalance doesn't hinder his efficiency back stage.

Ray-Anne Elk Ray

Peering out of a halo of blond hair, Ray-Anne watches the world go by with a smile.

Sandra Faulhaber Sandy

Sandy's a pert, energetic cheerleader with big blue eyes.

Rosslyn Ferraro Roz

Roz has small features but is big on laughter and friendship.

Florence Fraysier Snookie

Quick-moving Snookie is always on the go and looks like she's always having a good time.

Delores George Dolly

Dolly's characteristics are soft-spokenness, an easy smile, and love for dancing.

Shirley Glozik Shirl

Shirley has varied interests including softball, sewing, and painting.

Robert Garrard Bob

We don't know where all those unavoidable puns come from — perhaps he carries them in his tuba!

John Golla Jack

Jack is a quiet, observant business major with a flair for winter sports.

Russel Greer Russ

Russ is seldom referred to as "one of the Greer twins" because he has truly made a mark for himself as an individual.

Andrew Greer Andy

An ambitious redhead with lots of drive, Andy has outstanding ability in athletics.

Barbara Gray Barb

What might be shyness is transformed into pleasant likeability by Barb's quiet sense of humor.

Donna Gustafson Donna

Donna's rapid, cheerful speech and spontaneous giggle make her a welcome addition to any conversation.

Albert Hahn Al

Al manages to take time out of his busy schedule to serve our community by fighting fires.

Carol Halli — Carol

Carol has lots of school spirit and is always willing to boost the team.

William Harford — Bill

Bill is a quiet guy with an appealing grin and well-dressed appearance.

Frank Hartle — Hank

Frank's an authority on cars and loves tinkering around them.

Robert Heineman — Bob

Even teachers have to conceal a smile when Bob begins his classroom antics.

Charmaine Hertwick — Charm

Charm's great on school spirit; she likes sports and modern dancing.

Romayne Hewlett — Hewy

Hewy's athletic abilities mix well with her overall enthusiasm and school spirit.

Janice Heyne — Jan

Caught up in a whirlwind of activities, Jan creates enthusiasm through her warm personality.

Constance Hicks — Connie

Connie has a song in her heart and a cheerful countenance.

Thomas Hieber — Tom

Tom is a complete extrovert with a thundering sense of humor.

Eric Hoffman — Huff

Huff's love of the wild things in life is satisfied by his daring motorcycling.

Karen Holmes — Karen

Karen has a sparkling laugh which is heard often by her friends.

David Hrach — Rocky

A real rock on the football line-up, Dave always displays unruffled friendliness.

Charles Hrubecky Chuck

Chuck collects every kind of record imaginable and has a startling sense of humor.

Robert Hunter Bob

Bob, who has revived the drum major tradition here, has made a mark with his original routines and warm sense of humor.

Robert Jameson Bob

Bob's permanent smile and ready-made laugh spread contagious vivacity among his friends.

Lynne Johnston Lynne

Lynne is always willing to lend a hand or do a favor.

Timothy Jones Tim

A quiet outdoorsman, Tim knows all about hunting, fishing, and trapping.

Paul Joyce Paul

Paul's a future engineer who has spent three hard years working at the North Hills Animal Hospital. With all that experience, why not be a veterinarian?

Fred Kasten — Fred

Fred's favorite hobby is cars — both driving them and working on them.

Joseph Kearns — Joe

Joe ambles around and manages to cheerfully avoid as much work as he can.

Kathleen Kelly — Kelly

Kathy is a bursting bubble of enthusiasm constantly striving to rouse school spirit.

Robert Kerr — Bob

Bob's hep to modern music and plans to continue school in the business course.

William Kielty — Bill

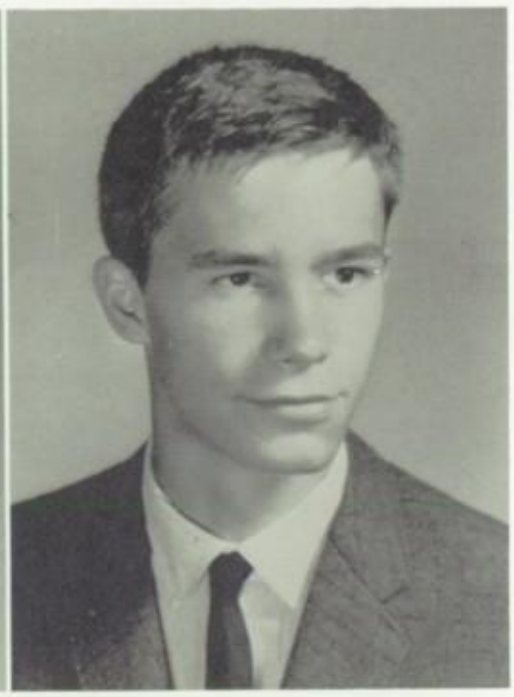
Bill's sense of humor is a spark plug for his friends and an inspiration to the team.

Aimee Killmeyer — Aimee

Aimee's a trustworthy individual with mature consideration for others.

Linda Kincaid Linda

Here's a girl that can talk for hours on the phone, but maybe that's because she'd like to be a PBX operator



Donald Kingery Buzz

Buzz's devoted appreciation for anything that crawls or flies is exemplified by his unique insect collections.

Naomi Klingensmith Nomi

Naomi's got a lot on the ball, especially when it comes to school spirit.

Frederick Knittel Fred

Fred's nose, somewhat damaged by his monthly cycle crack-ups, is usually seen poking out from behind photo apparatus.

Roseann Koglin Roseann

Roseann's swinging enthusiasm resides not only in activities such as swimming and dancing, but also in her future in the commercial field.

Richard Kremer Rich

Rich loves his car, and has a sense of humor hidden under his quiet exterior.

Sandra Kurchner Sandy

Soft-voiced and reserved, Sandy always has a friendly, attractive smile.

Russell Lah Russ

Russ is usually quiet, but wears a perpetual grin.

Carl Laib Carl

His quick wit and gift of gab should make him able to sell anybody anything.

Jeff Lampl Jeff

A basketball coach's bonanza, Jeff has a dry sense of humor.

Deborah Lanahan Debbie

Long shiny black hair and Bohemian appearance distinguish Debbie as one of Hampton's individualists.

Sylvia Lang Sylvia

Sylvia has a modest personality and is always projecting a smile.

John Lupnacca John

John has proved an expert at securing Pepsi for the members of the senior class play.

Barton MacFarlane Bart

Bart reveals his good naturedness by flashing a grin.

Nancy Lavelle Nancy

With never a hair out of place, this cheerleader always does her best for H. H. S.

Patricia Lorch Pat

This hard working member of the harried literary staff has a sunny disposition through it all.

Alice Martin Alice

Alice is a quiet, unassuming person who's willing to help out anyone.

Joyce Martin Joyce

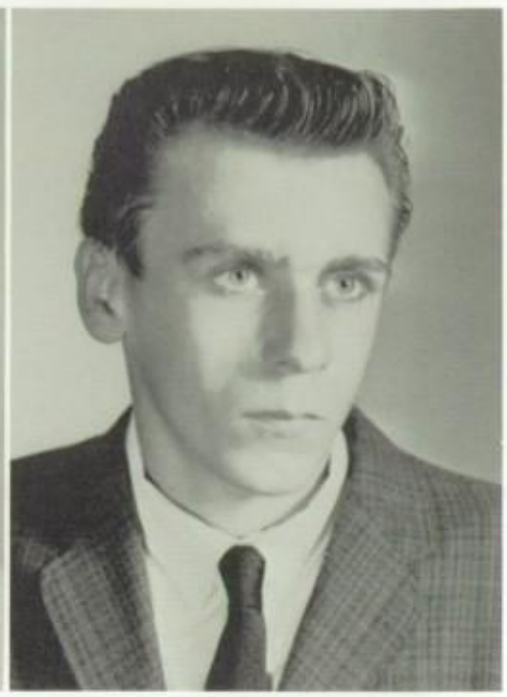
A real organization girl, Joyce is efficiency personified.

Joseph Matachek Joe

Joe has a sly grin and a joke for everyone.

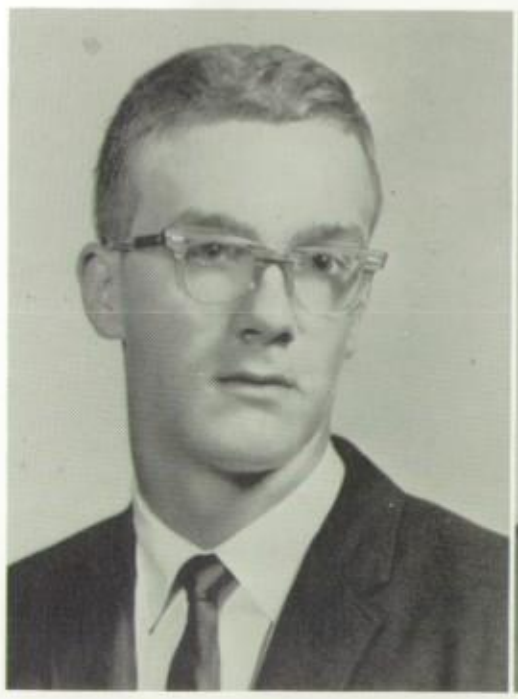
George Maute George

George remains untroubled by whatever comes his way.



Donna Matter Matterhorn

Donna's a well-dressed senior with an agreeable disposition.



Tomas McGaughey Dinks

Tom's avid sports-mindedness has immensely boosted both the morale and position of Hampton's teams.

John McGibbney John

While John concentrates on a future in the field of business, he takes an active part in school activities as a trumpet player in the band.

Randall Miller — Randy

Our drummer boy, Randy doesn't have a worry in the world.

Kathleen Miller — Kathie

A great school rooter, Kathie has ready advice for a private problem.

Robert Miller — Bob

This "son of a golf club" conceals a spontaneous wit under his quiet exterior.

Susan Monroe — Sue

Whether you want help with a personal problem or some scatter-brained excursion, you can depend on Sue.

David Morrison — Dave

Dave, who loves wood and metal shop, complains that he can never get his radio music loud enough.

Carol Miles — Smiles

Smiles is her nickname, and it fits her to a "tee."

Ruth Morrison Ruth

Hampton's gift to music always has something nice to say about everyone.

William Moyer Bill

Bill's a car enthusiast with a way-out sense of humor.

Carol Murphy Carol

Carol is one of those who can see a bit of humor in any occurrence.

Thomas Murphy Tom

This straight-faced jokester continually interjects laughter into our days.

Paul Murray Paul

This versatile hard worker is often seen raising his eyebrows and saying, "Oh?"

David Nearing Dave

Dave's a fun loving prankster who seems to know everybody.

Donald Netzel — Don

Don demonstrates an intent interest in the practical arts field, with emphasis on mechanics.

Ruth Nill — Ruthie

Ruth has a lot of school spirit and a cheerful chuckle.

Jean O'Neil — Jean

She shines in both her superior baton twirling and efficient classwork.

Paul Osthoff — Paul

Paul possesses an ability to accept and bestow harmless jokes.

Pamela Palmer — Pam

This well groomed brunette never missed a football game.

Elizabeth Parke — Libbi

Everybody's friend, Libbi seems to tumble from one scrape to another and remain blithely untroubled by it all.

Patricia Patton — Pat

Pat's studiousness will never prevent her from supporting the quirks of her friends.

William Perry — Bill

Aside from scooping out ice cream at the Village Dairy, Bill's pastime is being a practical joker.

Sharon Peruzzi — Sharon

Always on the go, Sharon adds zip to any school activity.

Jean Phillips — Jean

One would never suspect that this little freckle-faced pixie can play basketball like one of the Harlem Globe Trotters.

Terrence Powell — Terry

Horses and cars are Terry's favorite pastime.

Sharon Pusey — Sharon

A new addition to our class of '65, Sharon has firm ideals and many friends.

Linda Raymond Linda

Linda is a giggly, mercurial little blond with hard, common sense underneath it all.

Gail Reaves Gail

Gail's subtle wit shines out of her wickedly dancing green eyes.

Janet Riedwood Janet

Her smart casual clothes and glowing red hair cannot conceal an unusual art ability.

Barbara Riley Barb

An inveterate crammer, Barb remains cheerfully disorganized as she habitually drops books and papers in all directions.

Linda Robbins Linda

That expression of round-eyed innocence conceals a true eccentric artist's temperament.

Evelyn Sasse Eve

The madras and tweed type, Eve is a soft spoken girl with expressive eyes.

Linda Schaltenbrand Lin

Linda is pert and personable not only attractive but dependable.

Louis Schneider Lou

Lou is another Porky Chadwick fan who likes to "drag."

Joy Schwartz Schultz

This all around athlete has contagious optimism and bounding good humor.

Richard Shane Rick

This chauvinistic Irishman stood up for his nationality in Mr. McIsaac's class last year.

Bente Simerman Ben

Red hair and a quiet personality describe Ben best.

James Sims Bimbo

Bimbo is a happy-go-lucky golfer with a congenial sense of humor.

William Snead — Bill

Bill's impish grin is indicative of his friendly disposition.

Thomas Sokach — Tom

Tom has an acute sense of responsibility toward his school activities.

Gail Slade — Gail

Gail's a good looking blond who frequently flashes her sunny smile.

James Smith — Jim

Ever wonder who was under that threadbare Talbot suit? Last year, it was Jim.

Dennis Spirk — Denny

As a pro on the bass guitar, Denny has supplied a swinging note to several of Hampton's dances.

Richard Springer — Dick

A jolly senior, Dick always displays a red-faced grin.

Margaret Sprinkle Peggy

Beneath that gentle exterior lies a quick and occasionally sly wit.

Daniel Stahl Dan

That blond "hall monster" at the bottom of the steps with his hands in his pockets and a shy grin on his face? Yep! That's Dan.

Barthlomew Stack Bart

This tall lanky jazz enthusiast plans to go into the Air Force.

Anna Marie Stefanic Anna

Anna's trustworthy disposition draws the confidence of her friends.

George Stewart George

George is a determined wrestler who aspires to the business world.

Linda Stewart Linda

We can always count on Linda to give us a frank opinion accompanied by a touch of humor.

Lonna Stump — Putz

Putz combines a wry sense of humor, pretty smile, and attractively styled hair.

Patricia Stewart — Pat

Pat's versatility leaves her little time to concentrate on such insignificant things as being organized and neat.

Jay Sukits — Jay

Jay is a carefree, nonchalant guy with excellent taste in clothes.

Linda Swaney — Swaney

Swaney can always come up with a quick quip for the amusement of her amigos.

Edward Tappe — Ed

An outgoing athlete, Ed was one of the most enthusiastic members of this year's team.

Lynne Super — Lynne

She is a small but dynamic individual who constantly overflows with giggles.

Marilyn Taylor Marilyn

Marilyn's quick, direct manner is warmed by a fine sense of humor.

Elizabeth Tellalian Liz

Liz's large expressive eyes denote her meditative character.

Linda Thompson Thompson

Linda can be seen roaming through the halls carrying impressive-looking English literature which she is forever reading.

Louis Thompson Lou

Lou's valuable help with behind-the-scenes ground work has been appreciated by all who have worked with him.

John Thorton Jack

Jack's free and easy manner gives a lift to his classmates.

Lou Ann Tupper Lulu

Bustling with office activities, Lulu presents unruffled composure.

Carmeline Vacca Carm

This future beautician is a real Porky Chadwick fan.

Charles Violi Chuck

Chuck's flashing smile will be an asset to him in the business world.

David Weber Dave

Dave is a rare combination of corny jokes and scientific aptitude who, when asked for an answer, asks a question.

Linda Weiher Lin

Chic clothes and coppery hair done a different way every day are her trademarks.

Robert Weisman Bob

Bob's variety of interests includes art, skaing, and working on cars.

Grant Werle Werl

Grant's unusual set of interests range from the basketball court to the journalism desk.

Harold Wesley Harold

Harold's a science enthusiast who spends his spare time bombing around on a blue motorcycle.

Diane Wesolek Cuddles

Friendly, energetic Diane has a pert grin and sunny outlook on life.

Wayne Willoughby Wayne

Wayne's friendliness and large variety of interests will make him a fine business administrator.

Everything that could have possibly gone wrong, did. Every week brought its own special crisis. Deadline weeks brought dozens of them. Pages disappeared. We discovered that we'd been using the wrong size copy sheets all along. The date for activity pictures had to be changed three times. A moody group was found clustered around Mr. Campbell's desk every morning. The editors took to offering their resignations (never accepted) at spasmodic intervals. Now that the last deadline's over, we intend to blame all errors on the publishers and leave town the day the book comes out.

After a long dry spell, Hampton came up with the winning combination of a powerful defense and a vigorous offense. Complementing Mr. Fridley's experience, Mr. Lehner and Mr. Goff added such successful new angles on defense that no one scored against us until the tie at Shadyside.

Even with no home games, ticket sales snowballed until at the last game, what seemed like half of Hampton Township migrated to Arnold, where our only defeat ended our hopes for the Class A title.

Congratulations to the BIG TEAM, and best of luck to next year's boys. May they do as well or better!

Like the football team, the basketball team boosted school pride by achieving the best record in the past five years. The team was in contention for the section 13-A title right down to the last game. One of the best games was the 63-61 win over Shaler, in overtime.

This year's starting team was composed of four seniors, and a sophomore, which leaves only one returning next year. But this year's record was achieved by the entire team—called by Mr. Gallagher "hard workers" and "the finest bunch of boys I've ever worked with."

It's not really a group of dope addicts you see after school, squirming and writhing painfully on the gym floor. It's the wrestling squad. Through strict fasting and faithful practice, they have managed to produce the best record so far in the three years wrestling has been a sport here. Congratulations to Mr. Goff and the wrestling squad.

In every school, the multiple administration duties are handled by one small group of men. Their work ranges from maintaining discipline, to organizing classes and activities, to ordering enough typewriter ribbons to last out the year. At Hampton these major and minor duties are handled by Mr. Sarver, the supervising principal for many years, Mr. Huber, now in his second year as principal and Mr. Burda, who came here from a position at Millvale High School. Matters of school policy are decided by the school board, which is meeting this year in the new educational center.

"Men at some times are master of their fates." But students have no choice in taking English—they have to. After having conquered Mr. Phelp's grammar drills, Mr. King's book lists, and Mr. Goff's authors, they graduate to the annual Shakespeare themes, themes, themes, and themes. "The Big Bull Market is Dead!" Mr. Campbell's Friday Frolics (properly called book reviews and skits) provided a bright spot at the end of a long week. Authors such as Charles Dickens, Nathaniel Hawthorne, Marckwardt (American English) George Eliot and Brown, Brown, and Bailey (Form in Modern English) were studied—a bit too thoroughly for some. In Mrs. Eisengart's class, students had spelling tests and long sprawling discussions on The Bridge of San Luis Rey, and how to lift a substitute's shoes.

This year's Seniors were given a fencing demonstration by Mr. Huber. This provided background for Hamlet's duels and the deeds of the daring Henry Esmond, Esq.

This preparation in grammar and literature will stand us in good stead wherever life leads us.

Mr. Craig was the first senior high history teacher to be encountered by the class of '65. That meant outlines, special reports, and more outlines for our class in World History. Special added attractions were those ever popular Twentieth Century movies with Walter Cronkite, which always seemed to be followed by a quiz.

Term Papers! Mr. McIsaac made sure that we were familiar with those! We can recall thinking that we had "plenty of time" to finish them and then staying up all night to type the last phrase just under the deadline.

In our senior year we had to learn how to take essay tests, or else! Mr. Spanos could be heard up and down the hall in rationally empirical, dispassionate defense of John Stuart Mill and Charles Beard. Many senior girls found it difficult to concentrate on American government during the first few weeks of Mr. Lehner's class, but soon found that close attention to the lectures paid off on those tricky P.O.D. three-chapter tests.

Although many of us have already forgotten the date the constitution was ratified, many of the ideas we have studied have become part of our thinking and our standards.

MATHEMATICS

Even with all our training in Algebra I, II and III, trig, plane, solid and analytic geometry and calculus, we high and mighty seniors have often been humiliated by the revolutionary new SMSG problems. The seventh graders seem to be smarter than we are! "Miss Appleby in the fourth grade" never told us about SMSG, Mr. Manion! "Obviously", one good thing about math homework is that if you don't understand how to answer one question, you can always "go on to the next problem". We found that to be an especially good rule to follow while slaving over Mr. DeBlasio's assignments.

There was always a contest at the beginning of every geometry class to see who could go to the board and get some of that precious extra credit. In some cases, we even disproved the Pythagorean Theorem! Has anyone managed to prove to Mr. Keefer that it is possible to trisect an angle? We were always so engrossed in heptagons, octagons, monagons and pentadecagons that we never did get a chance to show him how it was done.

SCIENCE

An introduction to all areas of science is taught in the junior high school, primarily under the direction of Mr. McKay. Students then discover that they are either "inert masses of protoplasm" or "miserable specimens of insignificant humanity", depending on whether they have Mr. DeFrance or Mr. Kellar for Biology I. Those wishing to continue take Chemistry I and, after breaking the prerequisite number of test tubes, can choose from three more advanced courses. Most take physics where they have fun rolling steel balls down inclines and playing with the other clever little apparatus. The AMA—IMA calculations and the long slide rules are somewhat less amusing, of course. Students can also play pop-quiz roulette in the intensive physiology course. Biology II is best remembered for leaf hunting hikes, bullfrogs, who, after having been dissected for six weeks really had seen better days, and for Mr. Kellar's suspenseful tales of African safaris.

Every student who takes science must pay the penalty—at least one sleepless night before the annual Science Fair. Bitten fingernails, ragged nerves, and acid-eaten clothing are not the only products of student's efforts. Hampton has been well represented at the Buhl Planetarium Science Fair and has gathered much recognition there.

Some of us started our language background with Mrs. Terwilliger—hic, haec, hoc! We were right in there fighting when Caesar conquered Gaul, and we later may have followed Don Quixote through Spain.

If a Hampton Spanish student would ever travel to Spain, he would be familiar not only with the typical countryside (thanks to Mrs. Krochmal's travel posters) but would also be at home with the language due to the oral emphasis in her class.

A unique method of oral work in French class has been realized by original skits. If you ever make it through two years of skits, tape and skits, you are entitled to read Jean Jaques Rousseau, and Emile Zola in the original.

Farther down the hall, Mr. Budahazi's students discovered that those snarling, splintered tirades on the German tapes weren't actual recordings of Nazi torture sessions, but rather mild dialogues on the merits of sauerkraut and bratwurst as opposed to applesauce for lunch.

PRACTICAL ARTS

"The best way to kill time is to work it to death", especially just before the deadline for a shop or home economics project. The senior high students who elect wood or metal shop may design and make anything from wrought-iron bookshelves to lamps. At any rate it's cheaper than buying them! Perhaps it's due to the teaching skills of Mr. Phillips and Mr. Koslick, perhaps to the innate talents of their students, but, despite some vicious machines, the majority of students seem to make it through the year with all ten fingers intact. The senior high boys and those few adventurous girls who elect mechanical drawing from Mr. Suder design machine parts, sheet metal projects and houses. Who knows? Maybe he'll come up with another Frank Lloyd Wright!

Moans and groans from the more feminine side of the practical arts curriculum have been heard floating at odd moments from Room 208 as a home ec-student discovers that she has sewn a whole seam with the zig-zag stitch on. Deadlines for sewing course cause chaos here, especially when you're lining your first skirt. On a more sedate level, the girls study a unit on preparation for the great unknown, marriage and housekeeping.

BUSINESS EDUCATION

The noise in the halls between classes is nothing compared to the constant click, bang, and thump of the business department. The air is often filled with rhythmic melodies to which students are typing.

Some of the more memorable events in this department include: Mr. Smith's do-or-die percentage tests (R=B x P or is it B=R x P?), Mrs. Richardson's long vocabulary tests and her famous "Now read back your notes." We did many practice sets and spent study halls at the desk getting experience as receptionists under Mrs. Tryon's guidance.

We had two new additions to our business department this year. Mr. Shank came to us as our first intern teacher. One unique episode this year was teaching Mr. Shank how to run the business machines. Mr. Geisinger, our second intern teacher, taught the students data processing, which is a new addition. Our placement service, under Mr. Smith's direction, sends students out for job interviews throughout the county.

MUSIC

Music appreciation begins in the junior high with a required course taught by Mr. Sadler. Here the finer things in music are introduced to students as they learn the fundamentals of harmony and the history of music, including Bach's fugues and Handel's Messiah. Also in the junior high, a band and a choir are formed, directed by Mr. Tea and Mr. Sadler respectively, to prepare those students who are interested in the more advanced musical activities of the senior high.

Such sounds as 'STUPID SOPRANOS!' and 'TRUMPETS!' can be heard in the fine arts wing, which also houses the only first period sorority in the world (alias the alto section). Mr. Sadler overcame such problems as apathetic tenors and innovated a fine Bach program with homemade harpsicord accompaniment. Mr. Tea conducted frenzied last minute rehearsals around the parking lot. Undismayed by having no field to practice on, he still gave terrific halftime performances.

Besides the traditional Christmas and Spring combined band and choir concerts, the band was invited to the tri-band concert in January and hosted Allegheny Valley Band in February. The choir had the distinction of being represented in the county district and regional choruses by some of its more outstanding students.

ART

"When you people get out of here you may not have a very good background in art, but at least you'll be able to scour sinks and wipe paint jars!" In Mr. Casilli's senior high elective art classes, students are exposed to both types of training. In addition those taking crafts find out that it is prudent to spend less time designing and more time producing their projects, and those taking drawing and painting master the art of cleaning paint brushes and removing oil paint and india ink from their clothes. Mr. Casilli patiently supervises and manages to watch over everyone at once. He generally appears at the elbow of a student with a grin and a critical comment when he is least expected.

The junior high school art students are under the supervision of Miss Beaken, a new addition to Hampton's faculty this year. Teaching this group is a tremendous task since everyone in the junior high is required to take art. One of their initial projects was doing block prints, of which each student produced six. Miss Beaken can be quoted as remarking, "I haven't been doing too much except grading some three thousand odd block prints."

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Every spring tumbling brought its usual crop of casualties hobbling through the halls with their casts and slings. Remember how you felt when you kicked the soccer ball over the hill and it took ten minutes to retrieve it? And in volleyball—"When the ball comes your way, don't duck, HIT IT!" The panic when what you thought was the shower bell turned out to be the passing bell! But in spite of it all, the gym teachers manage to maintain some degree of sanity while providing us with two periods a week aimed at creating physically fit Hamptonites.
